

CONNECT NEWS

MEMBER NEWS

LIAI inducts new board member; receives CIRM funding

The La Jolla Institute for Allergy & Immunology has elected local resident Katina Tsakopoulos as a new member of the board. Tsakopoulos is a successful businesswoman and managing partner of the Tsakopoulos Family Partnership. She is a strong community supporter and is active in several charities focused on children's issues. Read more here.

LIAI researcher Dr. Anjana Rao was among five local researchers who received grants from the California Institute for Regenerative Medicine (CIRM). The CIRM awarded a total of $25M to 19 projects focused on possible immune rejection of stem cell transplantation. Read more here.